

Minister Moves New York Mosque to New Heights Warns Muslims Against False 'Leaders'

By Minister James 3X
(New York and New Jersey)

The effort of the press to cite Malcolm as a "leader" is disgusting, and it is in line with the whites' method of always boosting the person who is wrong. They play up these situations in order to rule and use both sides.

Small wonder that hypocritical America, the den of every foul and unclean bird, is having so much racial trouble. This trouble is the maturity of seeds sown in the past. Everything sown has a time of harvest. The old adage of reaping what you sow has stood the test of time. If a man plants a lemon tree, it is his misfortune, if at harvest time, he has a taste for peaches.

As for the involvement of the so-called Negroes—white America brought the black man here against his will and in chains, with sweat mixed with prayers and tears. In a short time, the Negro—slaving without pay—turned the untamed wilderness into a garden of wealth, sport and play... in the midst of poverty.

The slave is restless after 300 years of brutality, 100 years of promises, caution and gradualism and seven major wars. He wants to regain his lost greatness and status in civilization. The ghosts in his background are expressed in the form of riots and revolts.

The Honorable Elijah Muhammad, proved a statesman by 33 years on the battlefield of trials and tribulations, is the only light in white America with his tainted black leadership. He is the spirit of truth and human dignity, the hope to which the Negro can attach himself in his drive for freedom, justice and equality.

The Honorable Elijah Muhammad is a spiritual leader, a Messenger of God, who, like other divinely-chosen leaders of the past, is of pristine origin. His only preparation was in his heart, a longing for the freedom of his people and a desire to strike a blow in the interest of this freedom. History shows this is to be the case with great men of bygone days.

Before the Sun of Islam rose in Arabia, Muhammad was unlearned. Moses' tongue was tied, but with that tongue, God wanted to whip Pharaoh. David was the unprepared shepherd boy whose victory, while at a disadvantage, over Goliath displayed the power of the divine.

America has in her midst today a Messenger of God. Elijah Muhammad boldly tells the unchallengeable truths on God's solution to the racial issues plaguing America and the world. All who have come in contact with this great man have been blessed to rise above the masses. Some have reached great heights.

For each great man ever raised by God, He has raised a hypocrite to oppose Him among His followers. Many times they are His closest and most faithful pretenders, such as Judas and Peter.

Peter, who raised his sword in defense of Jesus, and when told he would deny Jesus, said, "Lord, not I." But before the sun rose—in the time of Jesus' persecution—this man had changed his language in order to disassociate himself.

Judas gave Jesus the kiss of death and betrayed him to the authorities.

The prophecy also pointed out the day of father against son: "and, in his time, I will have five in a house and three would be against two."

Lot was unfortunate to lose his wife, Abraham, in his trial of absolutism to God, Who shares not His glory, was instructed to sacrifice his son. All the prophets with sons were opposed by them, including Noah and David.

In many cases the people are in favor of the hypocrite instead of the righteous. As in the case of Jesus and the murderers, when brought before Pilot. The people said free the murderers but crucify Jesus.

Negroes never have experienced such a traitor, or double crosser, as Malcolm Little. I believe the name "Little" is what he is trying to outrun. However, he has to learn that—in spite of drugs to demoralize the calling himself "Big Red," youth and corrupter of so the pimp, seller of black city — he has met one he women to white men, pusher can't outrun.
